

WHO WE ARE

ADCG is a long-established Australian veteran owned business. We pride ourselves on the relationships we develop with all those we work with and expect nothing but the best from our exceptional staff. With a strong culture of support and single team mindset we are driven by the idea that we can make a positive difference to others. With the development of our Nuclear Consultancy Group we are bringing our detailed knowledge of Defence Industry's needs into the AUKUS domain and providing access to the world's most knowledgeable, skilled and experienced operators, trainers, and maintainers in support of Australia's sovereign Nuclear Powered Submarine Program.

Expert Partners

The Australian Defence Consultancy Group (ADCG) supports Industry to ensure their employees and sub-contractors are 'Defence and Government Ready', to win business in this rapidly evolving market. Our capability is perfectly positioned to support clients in achieving growth and exploiting the current market opportunities. Our signature initiative is the Nuclear Consultancy Group, which is designed to accelerate AUKUS initiatives by providing expertise to Australian governments, defence, industry, and the academic sector.
